

Summer Research Institute (SRI)
Agenda
Center for Innovative Care in Aging, Johns Hopkins School of Nursing
(Subject to Change)

Day 1: Monday, June 5, 2017 - OVERVIEW: THE HEART OF THE MATTER

- Registration, Continental breakfast, Meet and greet
- Welcome Introductions SRI objectives Overview of day
- Framework for Developing and Testing Behavioral Interventions
- The Role of Theory in Planning an Intervention
- Small Group Work (Each participant will have an opportunity to present their intervention and receive comments)
- Lunch, Networking, Case Presentation
- Evaluating a Sensory Based Palliative Intervention for Advanced Dementia Care: A Proof of Concept Trial
- Treatment Fidelity in Behavioral Intervention Research and small group work
- Wrap-up and reporting
- Reception and Informal discussion session

Day 2: Tuesday, June 6, 2017 - RECRUIT, RETAIN, AND TAKE MEASURE

- Continental breakfast
- Innovations in Design and Analysis: Randomization, Power, and Multivariate Modeling Approaches
- Selecting Control Groups for Randomized Controlled Trials of Behavioral Interventions: Challenges and Recommendations and small group work
- Lunch, Networking, Case Presentation
- Recruitment and Retention in Behavioral Intervention Research: Identifying Challenges and Solutions for Hard-to-Reach Participants and small group work
- How and when to involve community and practice-based partners
- Wrap up and homework: Template will be provided to identify/design control group for recruitment plan
- Informal meeting

Day 3: Wednesday, June 7, 2017 - FROM A to G: ANALYTICS, DISSEMINATION, AND GRANTS

- Continental breakfast
- Cost Analyses of Aging Programs: Building This Crucial Evidence Through Investigation and Translational Research
- Diffusion Confusion: Do We Really Know What it Takes to Take Interventions to Scale?
- Grant Writing Considerations
- Lunch, Networking, Case Presentation
- Small group work: Discuss challenges and aspects of your intervention you can improve
- Wrap up and evaluation